tonight a short time after the thousands who had been attending the Sportmen's Show, and the audience in the Garden Theater had left the building. The fire started in some rubbish in a storeroom in the northeast corner, at Fourth Avenue and Twenty-seventh street, and worked its way up from the storeroom, where it started to the second balcony, on which were the exhibits of birds and wild animals. The bears and wild cats and a pair of tame wolves were aroused by the smoke and fought to escape. One of the bears and a wild cat perished.

The fire practically destroyed all of the exhibits on the second balcony at the Fourth Avenue end of the Gar-smoke and water. Chief Croker estimates the damage to the building and exhibits at $15,000.

HEADWAY AGAINST RUSSIANS IS MADE.

Some Gains for Japanese Total of Day's Awful Fighting.

St. Petersburg Makes up Its Mind that Kourapatkin is Defeated and Gloomiest Reports Bear Out Supposition—Battle Raging on Russian Right, Where Slavs Are Trying to Cut a Way Out of Japanese Net.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
T. PETERSBURG, March 8, 2:15 a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] That the battle of Mukden will go down in history with Liao Yang in the long list of Russian defeats is the almost universal belief in post-militaristic St. Petersburg, which has forgotten the meaning of the word victory.

At the military clubs here, Gen. Kourapatkin is already regarded as beaten, the only question being his ability to execute a retreat. Those who believe there is still a chance of actual Russian victory are few and far between. The majority regard the fighting yesterday as in reality a rear-guard action.

Gen. Kourapatkin's critics among military men are increasing in number. With defeat now, whether disastrous or otherwise, they declare his star set. On the other hand, it is believed that Field Marshal Oyama's daring strategy, if successful in this battle, will entitle him to rank as one of the greatest captains of the age.

ASSOCIATED PRESS HEADQUARTERS. New York, March 8.—For ten days, the Japanese and Russian armies in Manchuria have been engaged in a mighty conflict, the issue of which has not yet been reached. Although most of the news from the scenes of the battle comes through Russian sources and consequently may be supposed to present the facts in as favorable a light as possible for the Russian army, it is evident that the Japanese made some gains yesterday.

St. Petersburg has an unofficial report that Gen. Kourapatkin's center has been broken and that thirteen siege guns have fallen into the hands of the Japanese. These guns, which are of six inch and eight inch caliber, were given permanent emplacements on the line of the railroad north of Mukden station, the last evening of the confidence of the Russians that the Japanese could not penetrate farther.

In St. Petersburg it is generally believed that Gen. Kourapatkin will fighting yesterday a rear-guard action to cover his retreat and that the night will have witnessed a large withdrawal of troops toward Tie Pak. All the commander-in-chief's ability, it is considered, will be required to extricate his army from its present predicament. The issue, it is expected, will be decided today.

A great deal unquestionably depends on the comparative ability of the opposing armies to resist the effect of hunger and fatigue, the limit of human endurance having evidently been nearly reached on both sides.

Beyond the statement that the casualties exceed those of the battle of Liao Yang, little is known as to the number killed or wounded.

TRYING TO CRUSH RUSSIANS. JAPS GET REINFORCEMENTS.
MUKDEN, March 7, 4:35 p.m.—[By Asiatic Cable.] Fighting of the fiercest kind, which is likely to decide the fate of the battle which has been in progress for ten days, began at dawn today and has continued uninterruptedly up to the present time on a front fourteen miles long, west of the railroad and on a line with the Shakk River. The Japanese also have made a desperate attack on Bentalsaput, and reports are arriving here that fighting was renewed this morning on the extreme left of the Russian army. Both sides are fighting with desperation to the westward, though the troops are well nigh exhausted. The issue of the battle may depend largely on the relative physical condition of the rank and file.

The losses in the ten days of battle on both sides are already far greater than were the casualties in the battle of Liao Yang, and are likely to increase as the days pass before the issue is fully decided.

Beginning at 2 a.m., the Japanese made a succession of desperate attacks on Gen. Tserpitzy's division, on the front south of Mukden, repeating the assault at intervals of two hours, with constant reinforcements. About 50,000 Japanese, with 200 pieces of artillery, participated. All the attacks were repulsed, there being enormous losses on both sides. One extremely important position changed hands several times. Finally, Gen. Tserpitzy, on horseback, placing himself at the head of his troops, led his regiments to the attack, with colors flying and music playing. The attack was successful. After it was over the victorious soldiers crowded around Gen. Tserpitzy, shouting his praises and even kissing his hands and feet. The Russians captured several quick-firing guns and many Japanese prisoners, including officers.

It was reported that Maj.-Gen. Gorn-gross of the East Siberian Rifles, toward evening, had taken and held Tatchelian. Here and to the northward, the Russians many times attacked by columns and battalions, storming positions with the bayonet and without firing a shot. Foreign correspondents and military attaches found language inadequate to express their admiration at the heroism of the Russian troops.

JAP PRISONERS WEEP.
All last night and today Japanese prisoners have been arriving in Mukden from the west front. The majority of them are wounded and all appear downcast and dejected, many of them crying.

Monday night the Japanese attacked Yenhetun, Alasup and Erhtaitzin, and also made four furious attacks on the village of Lohuanun early this morning. On the fourth attack the Japanese were temporarily successful in driving out the Russians, and rushed directly toward the field kitchen, where the morning meal was being prepared, and commenced to bolt the food. The Russian troops, however, with a shout of "Save our dinner, brothers!" fell upon the Japanese like a hurricane and drove them out of the village at the point of the bayonet. A captured Japanese said they had had nothing to eat since Sunday, and that they had been told this morning that to capture the Russians' dinner or starve.

The center remains Russian, but on the southwest the Russians are falling back on the right wing is now thrown back on the Russian settlement.

RUSSIANS IN RETREAT. MUKDEN IS EVACUATED.
LONDON, March 8.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Tokio says: "Reports are current here that the Russians are in retreat and preparing to destroy the railway north of Mukden. Gen. Kourapatkin is said to have gone to Fushun after holding a council of war of 100 officers. His left rear guard, consisting of 20,000 picked troops, is retreating."

"Chinese report that Mukden has been completely evacuated and that its great magazines were set on fire by Japanese artillery."

The Times St. Petersburg correspondent says that according to trustworthy information the majority of the war council are in favor of retaining Gen. Kourapatkin.

COLOR IN STOMACH.

Chemists Find the Strychnine Trace.

High Sheriff Henry Forecasts an Important Disclosure in Stanford Case.
Cascara Capsules Also Reported to Contain Poison Given Analysis.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.)
HONOLULU, March 7.—[By Pacific Cable.] High Sheriff Henry told the Associated Press today that the chemists, in a test of the contents of Mrs. Stanford's stomach this morning, had found a color which indicated strychnine poisoning, and that they would so testify at the inquest. He added that the chemists had found strychnine in the bicarbonate of soda of the village of Lohuanun on the night of the death, and that they would so testify at the coroner's jury.

May Hunt, Mrs. Stanford's maid, testified at the inquest yesterday practically the same as Miss Berner. In addition, she said that Mrs. Stanford had intended to go to Japan. In a conversation with Mrs. Stanford, discussing the subject of the alleged poisoning, Mrs. Stanford said: "How dreadful if I had died that time. People might have thought that I committed suicide."

HONOLULU, March 7.—[By Pacific Cable.] When the inquest into the death of Mrs. Jane L. Stanford was resumed this afternoon, the first witness called to the stand was R. A. Duncan, food commissioner and chemical analyst to the Board of Health. He testified that three analyses of the bottle of bicarbonate of soda found in Mrs. Stanford's room had been made. He said:

"I made the first analysis alone and in ten grains of the bicarbonate of soda I obtained seven hundredths (0.07) of a grain of strychnine. The second analysis I made in conjunction with Dr. Edmund Shorey, chemist of the United States agricultural station. In ten grains of the bicarbonate of soda we obtained thirteen hundredths (0.13) of a grain of strychnine. In the third analysis of the same amount of bicarbonate of soda we secured fourteen hundredths (0.14) of a grain of strychnine."

"By calculation, we estimate that in the bottle were forty-three grains of bicarbonate of soda, and that the bottle contained half a grain of strychnine. The methods of analysis used in the last two experiments were more reliable."

"We examined a portion of the contents of the stomach with a negative result for strychnine. We further examined one kidney and some of the contents of the intestines, but were unable to separate any poison from the substance, yet we obtained the color reaction characteristic of strychnine. We then combined all the remaining organs including the liver and found that a test of an extraction gave the same results as the intestines, namely, the color reaction indicative of strychnine. The test we used is known as the fading purple test, so far as I know, it is the most reliable test. The color reaction we obtained is not produced except by strychnine. We were not able to isolate any strychnine."

Continuing, Dr. Duncan said that the reason the strychnine was inseparable was that the amount was too small. Dr. Shorey agreed with a statement by Dr. Duncan concerning an estimate of the amount of strychnine that a half teaspoonful of bicarbonate of soda, obtained from Mrs. Stanford's bottle would contain. Such half-teaspoonful would contain, he said, according to the estimates, one-twentieth of a grain of strychnine. He further testified that he and Dr. Duncan employed the only practical test in their examinations of the organs and contents.

Deputy Sheriff Hawkins said: "Have you examined to know the amount of strychnine found?" Dr. Shorey replied: "I have not said and would not say that we found any strychnine. I would simply say that we developed the color reaction which strychnine causes."

This reaction is caused by the thousandth part of a grain. "Any quantity at all will cause a

DICK TURPINS GET GAMBLERS' JACKPOT.

Raid Poker Game at East City Limits, Line up Players With Pistols at Their Heads and Take Every Dollar in the Crowd.

DOGS, dogs in a thriller. Dick Turpin, a "big" card club Saturday night.

Threats, carefully guarded, the fact is a border, where seven players at a poker game were made to stand and deliver all their wealth, taken out yesterday.

Now the authorities are not only after the "big" high-farmer who raided the poker players, but they desire to see the shippers of himself.

Like a rabbit, the aforementioned shippers are "laying low." They give up something in the building, but the language of one of the gamblers expressed the sentiment of the bunch when he said:

"Tell with the loss of the money boys: what we want to do is to keep this thing quiet."

DID THE JOB RIGHT. It was a good old fashioned business-like, "hands-up-gents-and-look-careful" job. Two men were in the game and both understood their business.

"Spider" and his gang of six were seated around the table Saturday night in the shack away out beyond the city limits on East First street. They were engaged in a friendly game of "draw."

"Merrily the chips clinked as they shot through the air into the maw of the kitty and everybody save the two suckers was winning."

Suddenly the door to the road house flew open and two stalwart strangers with handkerchiefs about their faces entered the room and presented ugly guns.

"Now gents, hands up!" said one of the stick-up men. "Hold on high, and get up from that table leaving chips and money where they be."

"All right, we're in a fix, but this for we're going to get everything in right including what you got in your clothes."

LINED UP. Then while one robber held both guns on the frightened gamblers, the spokesman lined his victims against the wall with backs toward the center of the room, and went through their pockets. Table stakes was the game, but each player's pockets yielded a small harvest of coin.

Then the hold-up men turned their attention to the table. All the money in sight was taken, including bank roll.

Even the kitty was opened, for at times silver had jingled into the box. "I bet there's a few of these chips and decks of cards, too, for we feel like a soubertal game ourselves."

Now stand right close to that wall and be mighty keener until we get clean gone," was the parting injunction to the players as the robbers disappeared through the doorway.

Spider and his gang didn't dare make a "holer." Only a few months ago the roadhouse in the brick building just beyond the city limits had been working up, and Spider's place in the eucalyptus grove was a sub-rosa success.

The game was over for Saturday night, but last night another one was in progress. Shortly after 9:30 o'clock the game closed, however, and the players boarded the car for the city after the "club" had been securely locked and barred.

SHERIFF INVESTIGATING. Inasmuch as the crime was committed outside the city, it is a case in which the sheriff investigates, but at his request the detective force is making every effort to apprehend the robbers. Three of Sheriff White's deputies and four detectives have been working on the case since Sunday, but what they have discovered, if anything, has not been made public.

Both departments made every effort to keep the matter secret, a request that they do so having been made by the man who was held up. For that reason neither the sheriff's deputies nor members of the police department will give the details of the crime.

The officers have only an unsatisfactory description of the robbers, neither of whom was recognized by any of their victims.

The dealer in the poker game claims that he personally lost $100. He declares that the robbers are of the sort that the officers will have to shoot to get.

The statement of the dealer is well verified, and there is no doubt as to the facts.

RANGE CRISIS SAY SHIPPERS.

EASTERN MARKETS STRONG, BUT REACTION EXPECTED.

Arrivals Show Decay on Account of Warm California Weather and Ripeness—Not Rushing, But Distributing Shipments and Extending the Season Best, It is Argued.

The large citrus shippers report the situation in oranges at the present time throughout the eastern markets comparatively strong, although on account of the ripeness of the fruit and the unusually warm weather that has prevailed in California two weeks arrivals are beginning to show more or less decay. The situation is complicated also on account of heavy shipments, notwithstanding a car shortage, the average daily shipments for the last ten days having been about 220 carloads. The supplies in the east, together with the weak condition of the fruit, make the situation critical, and there may at any time be a reaction in the markets with very much lower prices, and at such times the cars that are in the poorest condition suffer the most.

There is no reason, they say, why the orange growers should wish to move all of their holdings in the next week or two weeks, or month, and it is to their best interest to distribute their shipments throughout the entire season, extending the closing date as long as possible. In fact, since the aggregate of orange shipments from California has reached such large proportions—30,000 carloads yearly—the only safety for the growers is to begin their shipments early in the season, continuing them as late in the season as possible, thus extending the shipping year at both ends. This applied especially to naval oranges. The carrying quality of naval oranges varies at different times, even from this time of the year on, in that when warm weather follows heavy rains, as has been the case this year, the flow of the sap into the tree has a tendency to weaken the carrying quality of the fruit, the tree shedding its weaker fruit, which falls to the ground, and later, after the dropping has taken away the poorer carrying oranges, the crop remaining in almost every season shows better keeping qualities and less decay in transit are much less heavy.

Both departments made every effort to keep the matter secret, a request that they do so having been made by the man who was held up. For that reason neither the sheriff's deputies nor members of the police department will give the details of the crime.

The officers have only an unsatisfactory description of the robbers, neither of whom was recognized by any of their victims.

The dealer in the poker game claims that he personally lost $100. He declares that the robbers are of the sort that the officers will have to shoot to get.

The statement of the dealer is well verified, and there is no doubt as to the facts.

SUPERVISORS OF STATE. SAN DIEGO, March 7.—Partial arrangements were made at today's session of the Supervisors for the entertainment of the Supervisors of the State at the annual meeting, May 1. County Physician Goodenauer hopes to invite all the county physicians here, together with other medical men interested in county hospital work. Discussion of subjects of mutual interest will be on the programme.

NEW RIVER FLOODS. Supervisor Jasper, who arrived from the desert country today, says it's water everywhere except where it is mud. Jasper's house, near New River, is surrounded by water, and all his land is submerged. He had no crops save grapes. Mud between the valleys is carried by pack horse, it being too muddy for wagons. The floods are the greatest since 1891, Jasper says the most damage is to feed.

LIVING TOO HASTILY. AMERICAN WOMEN BREAK DOWN. Irregularities and Female Derangements Result—Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Owing to our mode and manner of living, and the nervous haste of every woman to accomplish just so much every day, it is said that there is not one woman in twenty-five but what suffers with some derangement of the female organism, and this is the secret of so many unhappy homes.

No woman can be available, light-hearted and happy, a joy to her husband and children, and perform the duties incumbent upon her, when she is suffering with backache, headache, nervousness, sleeplessness, bearing-down pains, displacement of the womb, spinal weakness or ovarian troubles.

Irregularities and snappy retorts take the place of pleasantness, and all sunshine is driven out of the home, and lives are wrecked by woman's great enemy, woman trouble.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—I was troubled for eight years with irregularities which broke down my health and brought me to the verge of insanity. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound proved to be the only medicine which helped me. Day after day I improved, and while taking it I was entirely cured. I can attend to my social and household duties and thoroughly enjoy life once more, as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, without an ache or a pain.

VENTURA FAMILY CAUGHT IN

River, Swollen by Cloudbursts, a Torrent and Night Dark as a Pocket-Team Almost Unmanageable and Father Wading in Rushing Mass of Water to Quiet Norms.

VENTURA, March 7.—Will Wilde, a bean man, by prompt action on Sunday evening, saved, perhaps, the lives of himself and family. The party was caught after nightfall in the Ventura River flood and it was only by the greatest effort that all got out safe. The family started out for a drive in the morning, intending to make the trip up the beach and home by way the Castles Pass. There was a terrible rain in the mountains that day, and the part of the journey to the head of Castles Pass was made without mishap. After the divide was passed the downhill journey began the going was slow because of the slippery-ness of the road.

It was late when the mouth of the river where the Ventura River crosses the divide was reached. The night was dark and the rain was falling fast.

dark as a sock and the stream swollen to enormous proportions what had presumably been a cloud in the Matilda Mountain region, a perfect torrent of water was plunging to the sea. Mr. Wilde was anxious to get home and attempted the aid of the nearest cut-off road, but was not many minutes before he and himself and team up against the ice somewhere beneath the dark towering willows. His team was unable to move and he was Meanwhile Mrs. Wilde, though she a sleeping infant in her arms, jumped for it and waded to through the black flood.

Two other children leaped from of the buggy and succeeded in winning the other bank through water

LINGS TO NAIL AND LIVES.
[AL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES]
SANTA BARBARA, March 7.—Russicks, a ten-year-old son of Mr.
Mrs. William Hicks, who lives on outskirts of this city, saved his life by hanging for nearly an hour at a nail at the bottom of a deep well. His experience was a dangerous warning to others. He was sharing with Preston, who lives in the same neighborhood, and fell into an old well twenty feet deep, and contained a set of water at the bottom. He was at the bottom, and when he came up kept himself afloat until he could hold of a nail in the side of the well. He clung to this until his arms had run to his home and re-with him.

Major McAlister.
Major McAlister, accompanied by the other members of the Board of Police Commissioners, paid an official visit to police headquarters last evening, inspecting the City Jail and the various offices. They were accompanied in their tour of the building by Chief Hammel and Capt. Auble and these officers pointed out to the commissioners several much-needed changes which the Chief will recommend.

New Dress Woolens

First and foremost of all in this showing of Spring woolens is STYLE. It's the main-spring. Next comes VALUE, and tho' of a secondary consideration, it's of importance enough to attract the attention of every observer. About everything thinkable in woolens is here this week.

Vigoreaux Suitings $1
Light weight imported cloths for summer tailored suits, perfect dust defenders in coloring and weave both; navy and French blues, browns, tans, greys, and a half dozen pretty colors, all soft, handsome, fine textures; 44 in. $1.00.

Tailor Suitings 85c
Real English suitings of the lighter weight sorts for neat tailored costumes or traveling dresses; new, stylish, serviceable; they come in small broken checks with overplaids of fine lars in bright, strong contrasting colors; the body colors in greys, browns, greens, and castors; 46 in. 85c.

Pretty Checks $1
Mohair or wool checks in various sizes from the larger shepherd design to the smallest pin-head check; brown, black, green, navy, royal and castor, all woven with white. Clean, crisp and fashionable; 44 in. to 48 in. $1.00.

New Black Goods $1
Among the late black goods are a number of distinctly novel weaves, sheer or closely woven materials designed for gowns to suit all needs; prices, too, are intensely interesting to those who know style. Panamas, Crepellas, Crepes de Paris, Veilings, Batist... Voiles, Etamines, Armure-canvas, Granites and Worsteds; 42 in. $1.00.

Special Piano Values

Prices are reduced—on every instrument in the store—during our Annual Clearance Sale. At no other time of the year can you buy Steinway or Kranich & Bach Pianos at a discount.

10 to 20 per Cent. Saved

Over One Hundred and Fifty people have taken advantage of the Clearance Sale. Prices we have announced from time to time during the past two weeks. Never before in the history of the piano business in Los Angeles have such high grade instruments as the Starr, Emerson and others been sold at a real, bona-fide discount of 20 Per Cent. actual values.

There is necessarily a limit to such a sale as this—and regular prices will be in force just as soon as stocks have been reduced to the desired level.

Second-hand and Sample Pianos

Besides our regular stocks, a number of "used" pianos—instruments that have been out on rental, others taken in exchange as part payment on regular stock; and a number of new sample pianos, sent out by manufacturers wishing to represent them in this territory—will be disposed of at practically half original prices.

The Free Cecilia Recital this afternoon with Mr. Lerman as soloist, offers a musical treat you'll hardly want to miss.

LENT COMES WITH SOLEMN CEREMONY.

PENITENT FOLK RAISE PRAYER.

FIRST SERVICES OF LENT ARE ALL WELL ATTENDED.

Dean Wilkins Preaches at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral. In Law of Church.
Large Noonday Meeting at Stock Exchange, Bishop Johnson Presiding—Union Meeting.

The special Ash Wednesday services held in St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral yesterday forenoon were largely attended.
Dean J. J. Wilkins preached on "The Law of Lent," and in his discourse said:

"When we review our life, if we have the wisdom to review it, we cannot but see that we have failed in many of our best and highest endeavors. Our life has become secularized, and hunger for the bread of heaven has been un-fed, while avarice has been gorged, and bad habits instead of being shaken off, cling yet more tightly about the will."

"Lent affords time and opportunity for recovering lost ground, and if there be any who think his piety too sound and stalwart to need it, he of all men needs it most. Sin is self-righteous in its very nature. It violates the judgment as well as the passions. It discolors all inward tests of good, and when purity turns sallow even corruption looks pure. The soul must be thrown into new relations that it may learn to suspect and see the glamour of its vision."

"And so Lent summons us with a prophet's voice to prepare us by the Lord in our lives up a radical alteration of our habits. Lower appetite and exalt conscience and reason, it says. Make the crooked places of self-seeking straight, and the rough places of duty smooth by treading them. Alter your manner of living, and you are contented with it you may be. Get a new point of view."

"If the discipline of Lent does not show whether the metal of the character be true or false, all its abstinences and efforts are a mere waste of time.
The virtue of fasting lies in its discipline, and to be disciplinary it must deny the habits that threaten by their strength and the passions which have the look of supremacy in their rule.
And this discipline is necessary in the preciousness of the spirit which it it, for the shrinking betrays the sore-ness which, if not properly healed, will fester and gangrene. Any religion that seeks to relieve the pain of sin rather than to cleanse the blood of it, preaches the gospel of perdition."

"The modern religion of luxury will not do. The God that is now: The God that governs in this world: The God that is right about us: The God whose findings we see at work in the retributions of time, bringing every deed to the judgment of its own sure consequences—that God is not the easy-going, joviality we have been wont to picture Him. God is God, and while that God loves us, it is with a love too wise and earnest to withhold any pain that will burn off the dross, and refine the gold of character. He warns before He punishes, and even His punishments are warnings against evils worse than His punishments."

"There are certain things for which God has no pity whatever, and among these is religious cowardice. He hates it as He hates the chief of the nether-most pit. The cowardice, I mean, that would blind fact or law in the name of the highest truth—the sacred name of religion. Religion is frank, brave, honest and true, and quick and stern in its hatred of sin, or it is nothing at all. Hypocrisy itself must pretend to its virtues to make even a decent show."

Bishop Conaty, with attendant priests and acolytes, blessing the ashes at Cathedral of St. Vibiana, while communions pass in procession.

business men was held at noon yesterday in the Stock Exchange rooms.
Chamber of Commerce building. Bishop J. H. Johnson conducted the service, and the rooms were crowded with men.
It is probable a large meeting place will have to be secured.
Bishop Johnson will be the leader at this noonday meeting today and tomorrow.

On every Wednesday evening during Lent there will be a union meeting of all the parishes of the city held at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, and Bishop Johnson will be the preacher.

ASHES MARKED SIGN OF CROSS.

AND MANY PENITENTS KNELT AT CATHOLIC ALTARS.

Ceremonies to Remind the Faithful of the Fasting Period of Human Existence—Large Attendance at Services in All the City Churches.
St. Vibiana's Cathedral Overfull.

"Memento, homo, quod cinis es, et in pulverem revertis." Thus solemnly said the priests of the Roman Catholic church in every parish of the city yesterday morning, as they stood at the altar rail and with the ashes blessed and sprinkled with holy water made the mark of the cross upon the foreheads of the penitents who presented themselves.

"Remember, man, that you are of ashes, and into dust will return," is an English translation of this form used on Ash Wednesday. The intent is to impress upon the adherent to the church the fleeting period of human life and the inevitable passing to the grave.

Every Roman Catholic church in the city there were large congregations at the masses, and at most of the churches the ashes were blessed and distributed at the 8 o'clock service.
There was further distribution of the ashes at last night's services for those who could not attend in the morning.

As usual on special occasions at St.
Vibiana's Cathedral, that large edifice could not hold all the people who wished to worship there. The altars were draped in the somber colors, and the services were of a peculiarly solemn character, befitting the beginning of the great season of penance.

The ceremony of blessing the ashes was performed by Bishop Conaty. The assistant priest was Very Rev. P. Harnett, and the deacons of honor were Fathers Lonergan and Quinlan. Then the bishop and priests advanced to the steps of the sanctuary and touched the foreheads of the devout who presented themselves with the blessed ashes.

After the distribution a solemn high mass was celebrated by Very Rev. P.
Harnett, with Rev. William Quinlan as deacon and Rev. William Lonergan sub-deacon.

Last night there was a recitation of the rosary and benediction of the blessed sacrament, and Bishop Conaty preached. Similar services were also held in all of the Catholic churches of the city last night.

THOMPSON-BETON TONIGHT.
Ernest Thompson-Beton, the author of many wild-animal stories, and a student of nature in many phases, will lecture at Simpson Auditorium tonight, in the Star and Imperial courses of entertainment.

M. AND Z. SEPS M. CONTAMINATED.

HORRIFYING DISCOVERY BY THE BREWERS' UNION.

Non-union Hands Had Worked on Iron Frames of New Maler Brewery, Boycott on the Beer Promptly Declared—Will the Brew House be Torn Down?

Will Maler & Zobelein have to tear down their large brew house, now being completed after months of labor, all because the city and county health department found that the structure was built by non-union labor? This is the question now being asked by the non-union Llewellyn Iron Works?
Will other penance besides this drastic measure be required before men branded with the union labor totem can drink the Maler & Zobelein beer?
About the faintest boycott get run in Los Angeles is that which the brewers' union now has in force on the Maler & Zobelein concern. He it knows that the brewers' union has no fault to find with the treatment of its men at the brewery. The firm has a contract with the union as to time schedules and wages, and many months ago work was started on the new brew house. At that time the contract for the structural iron work was awarded to the Llewellyn Iron Works. The Llewellyn people came on with their materials, and for six months past have been daily on the grounds, putting in their work according to contract. Daily the non-union workmen of the Llewellyn crew have hobbied with the union workmen of the Maler & Zobelein crew, and they both took liquid refreshment from the same batch of hops.

But just before the building was completed, some members of the central council of labor discovered the horrible fact that the building in which union brewers were to labor had been defiled by the handwork of non-union iron-workers, and at once they conceived the idea that the brewers must be induced to believe they had been abused, and their confidence misplaced.

The boycott was declared. Last night there was a meeting of the central council to consider just what would be required of Maler & Zobelein before the boycott would be raised. Up to that time no demands had been made. It was evidently the policy of the boycotters to let the boycott run a while before applying the remedy.

It is understood that some of the men want every piece of iron in the new building pulled out and replaced by union men before they'll drink a drop of M. & Z. "ale." Just what the decision is will be made known today to the brewery proprietors. Meanwhile the Llewellyn Company is finishing up its contract.

RESIDENCE RANSACKED.
During the absence of the family of Allen Stewart from their home on Fourth and Cummings streets yesterday afternoon, the house was entered by burglars, who made a thorough search of nearly all the rooms. The thieves secured articles of jewelry and other valuables worth nearly $100 and escaped without being seen even by the neighbors.

SICILY LEMON LOSS.

Recent Cold Weather Destroys Almost Entire Crop. Together With Trees, Oranges Also Frozen.

The lemon crop of the present season in Sicily is almost a total loss.
Advises to this effect have just been received in Los Angeles from abroad.
Recent cold weather practically has wiped out the fruit and even the trees in the Cotiti district, which produces 80,000 boxes of lemons, it is reported.
The damage is nearly total. The frost extended up the Italian coast as far as Naples, few orchards escaping the effect of the extremely low temperatures.

To cap the misfortune of the foreign growers, it also is reported that the Valencia orange crop of Spain, which is a great factor in the English market, is totally ruined through the severity of the weather, a factor which in connection with the recent calamity that befell the Florida growers is operating to the benefit of the California crop in the eastern markets.

RECOVERED THE DIAMOND.

Jewel Stolen from Saloon Man Found in Possession of Race Track Follower.

Another follower of the Ascot Park races has come to grief—not a trustee clerk nor cashier, but one of the hanger-on who, being broke, sought to replenish his supply of the needful by stealing a fine diamond. The name of the prisoner is Louis Brodie, who was recently ruled off the track for trying to "dope" a horse.

Several weeks ago a saloon-keeper named Judd was robbed of a $250 diamond. He had won $200 at the races and had invested $50 in a diamond.
So proud of it was he that at night in the Palace Cafe, he showed it to his friends. It was passed from hand to hand and then disappeared. Brodie, from whom the stone was recovered last night, says one of Judd's friends dropped it and then put it in his shoe.
Brodie watched the thief and saw him secret the diamond and Brodie found it.
He showed it to a woman; she told another woman about it; and so it got out.

"And then, hesitatingly, he asked:
"For fear this should not be quite enough, maybe you better let me have what you have left there in your pocketbook." I will hand it all back to you at 5 o'clock this evening, when my employer gets home. You know, I live next door to him, around the corner."

"And I emptied my pocketbook into his hands. As he hurried away, leaving the sounds of his gratitude in my ears, I turned again to the Book of Life, and my eyes fell upon the words: 'Faith, hope and charity; but the greatest of these is charity.'
And aloud, I said, 'Amen!'"

"Lately I have been trying to recall the color of that brother's hair, for I have not seen it since. I think he is still waiting for his bone to come home. I wonder if he knows that some day, like myself, he will have to go bald-headed to his Maker, and that maybe I shall see him there?"

"La, this only have I found, that God hath made man upright; but they have sought out many inventions."

"BRO." PENCE HE CONFESSES.

Feeling That in This Case
'Tis Good for Soul.

His Purse, "Brother in Need" Got in Ungodly Way.

What Happened While He Sat Reading the Bible.

Attention, please! Mr. Pence, Comrade J. M. Pence, veteran of the Civil War and student of the Holy Bible, with residence at No. 424 Wall street is going to tell a little story. He will tell it in the first person. It is on himself.

"I've a habit of sitting down on my front porch in the forenoons and reading from the Book of Life, outspread on my knees, while the gentle airs of Wall street drift through my patriarchal beard, and cool the bold spot on my head. I belong to the Church of the Nazarene.

"The first time he came by he called out in a cordial voice: 'Good morning, brother!' I returned the greeting in the same kindly spirit, and he passed on lifting my eyes from the Word. I knew that he was a well-set-up young man, dark of complexion and modestly dressed.

"A few mornings later I was again sunning my beard on the porch and turning the sacred page, when the same greeting fell on my ears: 'Good morning, brother!' I answered his greeting in the same kindly spirit.

"You don't seem to remember me," he said, and paused at the steps of my porch. Why, I've seen you so often down at church—I belong to the same congregation the you do."

"I made him sit down and we talked of the Word. I did not recall his face because the membership of the Nazarene is 1700 and I am growing old.
We passed a beautiful quarter of an hour. Long study has enriched my mind in the sayings of the Savior, and in place of much familiarity with the gospels my new-found brother showed an humbleness of spirit and a bright earnestness to learn that in one so young and strong was good to see. We took to each other from the start.

"The dear young brother was much agitated when next we chanced to meet. I was reading the Book of Life on my front porch when he came hurrying up the street. 'Good—morning, brother!' he called quite out of breath and I could see at a glance he was in trouble. I closed the Word on my knees and turned to question him. But the whole story came out of its own force.

"And after all it was such a natural thing that he should come to me in his emergency, for was I not his brother?" It seemed that he had been summoned from his work to the bedside of his sister, who was about to become a mother. Not expecting the crisis so soon, her husband could not be reached.
The poor girl needed various things at once, and he was visibly embarrassed —he had not the ready money to get them. If—

"Say no more," I cried, and right heartily stretched out my wallet and handed him four-fifths of all it contained. 'You did right to come to me in the emergency,' I said. 'I'll not to whom to come,' he said, 'if not to a brother of my church.'"

"And then, hesitatingly, he asked:
"For fear this should not be quite enough, maybe you better let me have
what you have left there in your pocket-
book." I will hand it all back to you at 5 o'clock this evening, when my employer gets home. You know, I live
next door to him, around the corner."

"And I emptied my pocketbook
into his hands. As he hurried

TROLLEY GIANTS
IN COMBAT.STRUGGLE FOR CONTROL OF THE SAN BERNARDINO TRACTION.

One Run Said to Have Been Employed to Get Thomas Shapiro of Bank-Trusts State Domain Undoubtedly Has Principal Hold on the Trolley System.

AN BERNARDINO, March 8.—A special meeting of the directors of the San Bernardino Traction Company was held this afternoon. Several directors were absent. It was stated that A. C. Denman, Jr., has undoubtedly secured control of the road.

An immense amount of money has been employed toward this end, the source from which the money has come being unknown, but a strong rumor has it that Huntington's hand is evident and that the road will now pass under the domination of this Los Angeles capitalist.

Denman was formerly general manager, but was replaced in that position by the appointment of Henry Fisher, Jr., a son of the president of the corporation. Denman is said to have perfected a coup whereby he had secured a controlling interest in the road, having quietly purchased over $20,000 worth of stock, and he is now supposed to have in his control more than half of the 10,000 shares of the corporation's stock.

When Denman was ousted some months since, he gave out the statement that he was going East, probably for a permanent stay, but it develops that this was merely a ruse to throw the Fishers and the faction they represent in the company's affairs off their guard. Denman did not leave, but left instructions with his banker, Horace Slater, of Redlands, to quietly buy up all the available stock possible, the object of this, as now disclosed, being to control the annual meeting of stockholders to be held next Tuesday.

RIVERSIDE
PERRIN VALLEY TALK.

RIVERSIDE, March 8.—At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors today Judge Otto of San Bernardino appeared for the Riverside Home Telephone Company to ask for a franchise to extend the lines of the company to San Jacinto, Perris and the Perris Valley country.

The request was granted with the understanding that within one year the telephone company is to expend $100,000 in improvements and another $500,000 before the end of the third year.

It is the declared intention of the Riverside Home to begin the installation of the new lines at the end of the year. It is said that the main line with laterals will be more than thirty miles in length.
